Unsurpassed Resources

Not only is Alberta one of the richest agricultural provinces in the world, but also has about the richest coal deposits of any country of equal size. Figures prepared by F. W. Crockett give a fair idea of the vast deposits of coal that underlie this province. These figures may seem to be exaggerated but they are inside the mark if anything. The great beds of coal on which Alberta rests are of an extent that the layman can hardly appreciate their importance. Suffice it to say that there is coal enough in Alberta to supply the whole world for many centuries without more than scratching the surface of the seams. All over the province are to be found coal signs and many power houses are actively processing at Three Hills and Drumheller, for instance. In many instances the coal is in the hands of the owner, but the coal on his own holdings or the fuel to be found on a neighbor's property and is to be had at a very low price.

On the eastern slope of the Rockies there is coal in amazing abundance and of qualities ranging from bituminous to anthracite. Much of this coal will be easy to reach with a few miles of railway and inside ten years, Calgary will be passing through its railway channels a tremendous stream of fuel destined for the power stations of the west. Another tremendous stream will flow southward and will supply the cities, the industries and the railways of the north western states.

Incalculable Rich Deposits

If the human mind could comprehend the amount, let us set to work to realize what 15,000,000,000 tons of coal means. This is billions and not millions. Yet this is estimated tonnage of Alberta's deposits. Of this bulk is lignite, 60,000,000,000 tons, and while this is not as valuable a coal as anthracite, it is still useful for domestic and steam purposes. Add to this 4,000,000,000 tons of bituminous and 400,000,000 tons of anthracite, and the total of 4,400,000,000 tons is reached.

Rich in Other Minerals

Now on top of this inexhaustible coal wealth must be placed the riches of other minerals to be exploited. It is known that Alberta has iron, copper, silver, lead, zinc, and many other minerals, but as yet only the beginning has been made. The Standard will be surprised to hear of silver, lead and zinc strikes for a thousand miles from Calgary during the coming year. There is a prospector who took from the district who has sold out a part of his interest in a mine for more money than he had ever seen before.

And last is the agricultural wealth. While Alberta has produced hundreds of millions, this industry is only in the infancy of its development. What will be Alberta's status when, instead of ten per cent of its arable land being used, as at present, the entire 100 per cent, is tilled?

ALBERTA POTATOES IN DEMAND BY UNITED STATES

Alberta's potatoes are growing famous. From the old California comes an S.O.C. call for tubers grown in this fair province. It seems coming like carrying coals to Newcastle, but yet the condition is simple. There has been a potato crop failure in almost every part of the world. Even California, with its much advertised climate, has not been immune, and it is in dire need of potatoes of quality. A few years ago Alberta was importing seventy five per cent and more of its potatoes. A few years hence and the province will be exporting seventy five per cent of its yield. The reasons are not far to seek. The Alberta potato is being graded up and is now of excellent standard. The farmers are using better seed and are making as keen a scientific study of their potato crop as of their wheat and other crops. Therefore not only California but other states and other provinces will find Alberta with orders for potatoes. Here we grow potatoes cheaply and, given reasonable freight rates, this product should be shipped rather than a profit. This is a brand new industry that is so new that no profitable in development. The province's agriculturists would be foolish to ignore it.

THE FIRE

The house of J. Bonner was badly burned last Friday night. Within a few minutes after the alarm was given the fire engine was on the ground, and in a very short time the fire was extinguished. The damage done was not greater than was expected, considering the short time that it was burning. Every bit of furniture in the house was destroyed and nothing was saved except a couple of trunks. The fire was caused by the explosion of an oil lamp which Mr. Bonner was in the act of filling. The flames in some way must have reached the oil and the explosion resulted. The house, which was owned by Geo. Wales, was partially insured but Mr. Bonner had no insurance on the furniture. The fire chief happened to be on duty, but the rest of the boys were on the job and did fine work.

School Notes

The students of the public and high schools wish to thank Mayor Holmes very much for the oranges sent up on the last day of school before Christmas holidays.

Last Friday a meeting was held in Mr. McKenzie's room to discuss the probability of organizing a hockey club. A very free motion discussion followed, and the conclusion was in favor of organizing. For the executive it was decided to vote upon a number of men each recommended in the club. Representatives chosen were as follows:

- Grades IX and XII—Alex. Simpson
- Grades IX and X—Harold Soley
- Grades VII—Charles Spencer
- Grades VI and VII—Loren Price

We wish to announce the Hamburg (Hollands) Festival to be given in the Oddfellows' hall on February 2nd. The money obtained at this festival is to clear away all outstanding expenses of the delinquent town's trip to Pelly Creek and Medicine Hat. Also expenses of the football and basketball teams.

Canada's New Baron

Winnipeg Free Press: Taking a rap at Sir Max Aitken, or Baron Aitken, as he is now called, is a great amusement in Canada. Personally we don't know Sir Max, or Baron Max, but we've heard that he has a lot of money and that people are surprised as to how he got it. Persons who come from his native province of New Brunswick say Baron Max was an ordinary young man who spent an ordinary boyhood back in the home town. It was after he obtained his majority and had moved to Montreal that he started the fireworks. Sir Max made rapid progress in Canada, but it was after he went to England that he really began to get his earnings. One day he was an M.P., the next he was a peer, and the next he was Lord Lloyd George and of Honor. As already stated, we don't know Baron Max, but he has a good personality, some quality that makes his friendship worth while to these national leaders. True, he has money, but he's not other people in England have plenty of money, so the money doesn't explain the whole story. Maybe some of the new baron's boyhood friends can explain the quality that makes this young Canadian the friend of those in the seats of the mighty.

CREDIT LAWS IN KANSAS

Much is being said about credit laws for Alberta, and interest runs to every district where some system of credit loans is established. As an example of how one scheme is working, the following extract from the Banker Farmer—an American publication—shows what has been accomplished in the state of Kansas. The article reads:

"Each farmer was asked to sign an application showing the number of cows he then had, the number he wanted to buy, the breed preferred, whether purchased or grade animals were desired, and the number of acres cleared. He agreed to raise calves, to accept the cows purchased, and to pay actual cost at Ashland, paying within three years for the cows bought from 1916 monthly payments of $1.00 at the rate of not less than $1.00 a month a cow. Payment was secured by chattel mortgage on the cows and their progeny, and if necessary, other personal property. Two banks agreed to furnish the money to buy cattle with interest five per cent if the business man would guarantee them against loss; in other words if the business man would lend their credit to the farmers. This was done. The bankers then appointed a committee to pass upon the applications. A competent committee was selected to buy the cows. In 1916, 15,000 calves of grade cows, representing an investment of $9,475, were purchased. By January 1, 1917, $12,475 was repaid. No guarantor was called upon to make good. Worried farmers got the cows on three-year notes, interest at six per cent, secured by chattel mortgages and not by mortgages on their farms. There was a better understanding between farmer and business man, better conditions in the country, improved homes, more able, better barns, intelligent feeding, and a general educational campaign. Livestock raising has become the leading industry in this country. Creameries and cheese factories have been built. Community breeding has been made effective and testing associations are flourishing." — News Telegram.

Grobe-Davis Wedding

An interesting wedding took place at Calgary last Wednesday, when Charles Munro Grobe, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Grobe, of Claresholm, and Miss May Jane Davis, of Hurley, N.B., were united in marriage. The wedding took place at Knox Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. M. Fulton officiating. After the ceremony the party motored to the King George Hotel to partake of the wedding feast. The guests present were: Arthur Grobe, of Claresholm; Miss Inez Davis, Capt. Elliott, of Blackie, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Blair, and Miss Ida Eldon, of Calgary. The young couple left on the evening train for Edmonton, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Grobe, on their return, will take up their residence on their farm 12 miles east of Claresholm.

College Notes

The first event of importance this year in the line of sport was a practice hockey match between A and B Divisions of first year men, held on the school rink, Friday, the 5th January, 1917. The game was hotly contested, ending in a score of 4 to 1. In the evening of the same date as the game, a dance was held in the honor of Mr. Tapp, a graduate of the school, who is taking a course in the University at Edmonton. The music was furnished by Mr. Hurl and several of the students. As usual a most enjoyable time was had by

On Saturday, January 6th a hockey match was played off between First and Second year men. The game was very hotly contested, ending in a score of 4 to 1. The boy gave a fast game, considering the method of the ice, the Second year students succeeded in scoring six goals, while the first years managed to find the net twice in the first quarter and twice again in the second.

The girls turned out in the afternoon to practice, and some word and wonderful play was witnessed by those present.

The school assembly arrived and were distributed to the girls and boys on Saturday morning. They have a purple band around the bottom, white body, with shield and C. S. A. on the breast, neck and shoulders being purple. Around the school, on the risk and about town those aviators are very much in evidence.

SLAVES NO MORE

Many of our farmers are today enjoying a peace of mind that has not been possible for a good many years past. The change has come as the result of good crops, which has enabled them to pay off the machine companies that have had them by the throat for the last ten years. One man recently reported that he had paid $1000 in a piece of machinery that originally cost $250. Ten per cent, compound interest adds up very fast, and the farmer who has been forced to give chattel mortgages on his stock as security for payments on some worn out machinery is mighty lucky if he is still on his feet.

Many a man curses the day when he first bought a piece of machinery on time. The time has gone when machine companies can possess landowners to the farmers. There is little temptation in failing, as has often been shown, but all the unpaid dollars in principal and accumulated interest for a lender that cost less than $50 to manufacture.

The machine outfit has for 13 years been sucking the life blood out of the farmers of Alberta, but the day of their emancipation has come, and the farmer can hardly be blamed if, in the future, the companies that have dugged and threatened them year after year, and in many cases turned them out of house and home, are now allowed to go a begging.

The Alberta farmers, with but few exceptions, are honest, and their failure to meet their notes when due was owing to crop failures. The machine companies have taken it for granted that farmers are all rogues. This year of good crops has enlightened them somewhat. An agent of the International told the writer, this fall, that he had sold 100,000 red and white calves, 14 years old, with interest up to date. The machinery had been purchased in North Dakota and the company had given up all hopes of ever being paid for it. The farmer had been unfortunate all those years, and yet, with the first good crop, he paid up his debt. It was no credit to the company to take 10 per cent, compound interest for the 14 years it had been owing.

This is the farmers' day and he will not forget, now his pockets are bulging with cash, the companies who made life miserable during the hard years of the past.

A business meeting of the Red Cross will be held in the room on Thursday, Jan. 11th, at 3 p.m. Special business: To elect a secretary in place of Mrs. E. Moffatt, resigned.

The following bulletins have been received from Sir William Peterson, president of McGill University, after a visit to the Red Cross storehouse in Boulogne. He says: "Here are stored all the multifarious supplies which reach Boulogne from the United States and Canada. What an amount of loving care and foresight on the part of the workers and contributors throughout the world is represented in these stores. Nothing seems to be lacking either in the way of medical or surgical supplies or comforters. The need is so great that in the month of July the contents represented a value of half a million dollars, and no matter how full the warehouses may be, their whole contentment is cleared out and has to be renewed on an average of once a month. Let the workers in Canada and elsewhere continue their angelic efforts in the full confidence that every ounce of the goods they supply reaches its mark."

Many supplies have been received about the making of bandages. In reply would say that we have been asked this year to enter in half our supply of bandages and compresses and some other articles that are more urgently needed. The entries, therefore, are now only two halves per month instead of four or five formerly.

A special call has been received from the front, through Calgary: "Can the Claresholm add a supply of 25 complete tin bags by Feb. 25th?" The entries 25 each of the following articles: Kit bags, suits of pyjamas, pairs of socks, towels, flannel shirts, cakes of soap, tooth brushes and paste, paper and envelopes, handkerchiefs and combs. These articles are needed most urgently. The wounded soldiers arrive in hospital with nothing but a battered and greasy old uniform. During extra-long hours these outfits are their greatest comfort. Can we manage to answer the call? It is a large order to fill in the time. The entries are absolutely at work. How about the knitters and sewers?

MANHOOD AND WEALTH

There is a movement in Britain for the conscription of wealth. Its echoes are also heard in some parts of Canada, and some of the best brains have taken the stand against national registration of manhood unless there is also national registration of wealth. A man who gives his life is also national registration gives his all, and it would seem just as reasonable for the nation to conscript the wealth of the country in order to prosecute the war as to conscript the manhood. The man who gives his life to defeat Germany gives more than the man who gives his life to defeat Germany. We may expect to see great changes in the older countries to meet the financial obligation incurred by the war.

Every lady in Claresholm is directed should read the report of the Red Cross this week. A special call has come in and workers are urgently needed.

The Red Cross flag is almost gone. The time of its final departure is near at hand. He has a bunch that anyone who has gone through the inferno has recently passed through was not born to be killed in battle, but he reserved for another day at the hand of Fate. We hope Teddy's bunch is correct. While resting he is in training for N.C.O.

"Evelyn" played to a full house last Monday. For once, at least, the house was better than the company. Claresholm is a good, little opera town and is deserving of better accommodation in the way of opera houses and a singing floor. Since the Rex was brought up to modern standards attendance has vastly improved. The same thing would happen if we had a properly equipped opera house. The playing companies would also be able to do better work.

A. E. Strange and Frank Wallcut went to Calgary on Tuesday morning.

"THE ROSARY"

"The Rosary" tells a modest and unassuming story of how the watchful and protective influence of a good priest ultimately restored the happiness of a home that has been wrecked by the evil plotting of one who could see his neighbor's wife, and sought revenge because his rival had won the love of the woman to whom he had paid suit in the days when we were free to chase between them. In consistent action, the truth is made plain that suspicion increasing to what seems certainty of guilt, is easily engendered where absolute innocence prevails, and the story's progress makes plausible its culmination in what seems irretrievable disaster.

Equally plausible, however, is shown the power of the influence of good fighting against evil. The exposition is so simply and plainly submitted that the play's story of battle between good and evil is made to possess all the appeal of the earlier morality plays with which the stage had its beginning. The title character, Rev. Fr. Kelly, is a very moment, here, a lay, a zealous and watchful shepherd, solicitor for the safety of souls, brave in the performance of his duty, fervent and uncompromising for the right.

How a Great Problem

Worked Out

The girl's mother died when news came that the husband and father had just been sentenced to twelve years for house breaking. One of the neighbors, in the shoes, took the girl in charge and raised her as a pickpocket. When her "protectors" then she knew that her mother had died and that she was left to fend for herself.

But there came a time when one of her best friends visited her and her husband in his prison. The incident was turned to good account by the fate that sent a student of prison reform to the police court when she was brought in, with her accused pickpocketing her trial.

The prison reformer was anxious to make an experiment in criminology. He claimed that 90 per cent of crime was inspired by evil surroundings. He resolved, on a bet, that he could change the nature of any child born to crime and reared in criminal surroundings.

The Bluebird Photoplay, "The Great Problem," to be exhibited at the Rex Theatre, Clareholm, on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 12 and 13, will tell the rest of the story. The outline here given will convey an idea of the purpose of the film—it is meant to both entertain, by its compelling story, and to point a lesson along lines that are considerably mitigated by sociologists these days.

The following letter was received by Mrs. W. J. Stephens, treasurer of the Foothills Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, from J. A. Irvine, secretary of the British Salices' Relief fund:

Calgary, Jan. 4, 1917. Dear Madam—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of $110.22. We appreciate very much the work of your order in connection with the Salices' Fund. These men are doing a grand work and we are endeavoring to do the best we can for them. To date we have something like $2000 on hand, and considerably more promised.

Thanking your order for their interest, etc. J. A. Irvine.

The dates arranged by the Foothills Chapter to take place in Friday evening next promises to be a great success. All who are anxious to help the Prisoners of War fund should make a point of buying a ticket.

Since the war began the United States has sold to the warring nations and other foreign countries over $3,000,000,000 worth of United States products. Out of this the United States has given for the relief of Belgium and other countries devastated by the Germans, about $40,000,000. During the same period England and France have contributed $240,000,000 for the relief of Belgium alone.
